PERMANENT ORGANIZATION

Effectuated by the Parent-Teacher Association of the High School District Yesterday Afternoon — Mrs. James Ross Elected President.

At a meeting of the parents and teachers of the High School district yesterday afternoon a permanent Parent-Teacher Association was effected. Sixteen were present at the meeting and others telephoned that, though unable to be present, they desired to become members.

The following were the officers elected for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. James Ross.
First Vice President—Mrs. John Chenault.

Second Vice President—Mrs. N. F. Jones.

Secretary-Treasurer—Mrs. Alberta Glascock.

The meetings of the association will be held on the third Friday of each month, unless upon call of the president. The first regular meeting will be held on November 17 at which time the teachers of the grades in the High School building will furnish the program.

The mothers present decided to offer a prize to the grade bringing the largest number of parents to the meetings. This will be an incentive for the children to bring their parents and thus add to the roll of the organization.

It was decided to hold an entertainment in the High School on the night of Friday, December 15, under the direction of Miss Jones, expression teacher. The funds obtained at this entertainment will be used to purchase playground apparatus or for what the association may see fit. The children of the school will be asked to participate in the entertainment and it will undoubtedly be a success.

The funeral of Miss Myra Duke Myall, who died at her home in Mayslick Thursday night will be held tomorrow morning instead of this afternoon as previously announced.

HALLOWE'EN BIRTHDAY PARTY

Fourteen years ago a handful of lone women with the love of the Saviour of all mankind, strong in their hearts, started in Maysville a City Mission. The first few years it was a struggle for mere existence, but they held on until the critical stage was safely passed. Now the Mission is a powerful institution for social service. Each year these same women have celebrated the Mission's birthday. This year it is to be a Halloween party with witches, fortune tellers, hobgoblins and pumpkin pies. Let everybody come with a little bag of pennies. The little bag won't tell how many, or if it be yours or mine. A few pennies from lots of people will enable the Mission to reach an intelligent and helpful hand into the home of every unfortunate in our city. Monday evening 7 to 10.

THE FIRST STEP

THE MERCHANTS SCOUTS START TO WORK MONDAY FOR FINANCES.

First of the Week Will Put the Test of Individuality and Sincerity of the People of Maysville Who Wish to See It Prosper and Grow.

The Chamber of Commerce has laid plans to hold a Tobacco and Corn Fair in this city on November 23, 24, 25 at the Liberty Warehouse on Commerce street. To make this move a go it will be necessary that a fund of from $1500 to $2,000 be raised at once. Every merchant, every business man, every professional man and every citizen who has the interest of Maysville at heart will be requested to donate as liberally as possible in order to assure the success of this magnificent undertaking, which will mean more to the city than any affair that has taken place in this county in a decade.

Do not let your neighbor do it all. Do your part and we will do ours.

Every one should contribute as liberally as possible and we want the public to know that this Fair is for the benefit of Maysville and Mason county people.

It is the intention of the promoters to revive those famous Tobacco Fairs held here in years past only on a much larger scale than heretofore.

There will be plenty of attractions and plenty of entertainment for everyone, both young and old. Prizes will be given for the best display of tobacco, the best display of corn, best display of farm products, best display of woman's handiwork and household products. Also for the best school display both in the city and county as well as premiums for the best decorated booth and organizations appearing in the parades, which he held at different times during the Fair.

It should be the pride of every Maysvillian to push this Fair to a success and you are requested to PUSH, BOOST, PULL and ask your neighbor to do likewise.

Get the spirit, display the spirit, forget the past and build for the future. To keep posted with the coming events, read the newspapers. They are our live boosters and are with us in this Fair. It is for the benefit of all so let's make it a success by helping the finance committee with your donations.

Be liberal with your funds and you will be proud that you are a Maysvillian.

GET TO WORK AND DO YOUR PART.

GIVING AWAY OUR MARKETS

A current from the enormous wheat reservoir of Argentina has been diverted to the United States. A news dispatch from Buenos Aires states that the steamer Pampa sailed for New York on September 26th with a 4,000-ton cargo of wheat and linseed consigned to this country, and two other steamers loaded with wheat are to follow. Commenting on this fact the Argentine papers remark that this is the first time Argentine wheat has been exported to the United States.

At present the chief competitor in our domestic wheat market is Canada, but it is expected that Argentina will very soon take front rank among our competitors in this product, if the Democratic tariff law is continued in force. Argentina has been, since the passage of that law our chief competitor in our home market for meats and linseed, and second in wool.

Wheat imports increased from 477,000 bushels during the period October, 1912, to July, 1913, under the Republican tariff law, to 2,016,000 bushels for the same period, 1913-14, under the Democratic law, while for the same period, 1915-16, despite the enormous demand of the belligerents for Western Hemisphere wheat, our imports rose to very nearly 5,000,000 bushels. Most of this has come from Argentina, and she could spare the money. Yet Bryan went into the courts to fight for that country to freight the grain to this country, and sell it in competition with our farmers, as she does her corn. The Democrats put corn on the free list, and during the ten months period 1913-14, while the law was in free operation, our imports of corn reached nearly 14,000,000 bushels, compared with about 287,000 bushels under the Republican rates of duty for a similar ten months period, 1912-13.

The report of the Department of Commerce of imports for the 8 months ended August, 1916, shows an increase in our imports from Argentina, compared with 1915, of $21,000,000, or from $61,250,000 in 1915 to $84,560,000 in 1916, and the Democratic law gives practically a free market to all Argentine products. During the first 8 months of 1913, under the Republican law, our imports from Argentina totaled $14,555,000, and for the 1914 period, with the Wilson Underwood law in operation, they jumped to $40,000,000.

The Department of Commerce has been making a great talk about extending our commerce in South America by means of trade concessions. What concession in our market can we give Argentina, that she does not already possess, in exchange for a concession in her market? We have given her free trade in the biggest market in the world. What more is there to give?

THE WILSONIAN DANGER OF WAR

The only occasions when the United States seemed to be in danger of war were those created by the timidity, vacillation or uncertain action of the Democratic administration.

The United States would never have been on the verge of war if it had calmly and firmly asserted its rights and given notice that it would maintain them.

No nation in the world seeks war with the United States. It is not difficult to keep out of war when no nation wants to attack us.

It was Democratic vacillation and double-dealing that induced foreign nations to believe they could violate American rights with impunity. They did so, and then the American people required President Wilson to make known that such a course would result in war.

President Wilson, instead of "keeping us out of war," nearly got us into war. He barely kept us out.

A stronger, clearer, firmer policy is needed. America must be kept out of war, not by surrendering its rights, but by convincing foreign nations that it will not pay them to risk war with us.

It will be more difficult to make foreign nations understand America's determination to maintain its rights than it would have been before President Wilson permitted violations of those rights. But Charles E. Hughes can speak in terms that cannot be misunderstood.

Woodrow Wilson's usefulness as spokesman for the United States is practically destroyed. His one remark, "We are too proud to fight," made him the laughing stock of Europe.

A new spokesman for America is needed—a man who personifies the real spirit of America. Such a man is Charles E. Hughes.

When Ambassador Gerard arrived in New York, he showed no haste in arranging to call upon the President. But he found himself whisked away to take luncheon at Col. House's apartment, where he found also the Secretary of State. Consequently, whatever the Ambassador had to say to his superior officer had to be said to Col. House's presence, and doubtless the conversation, as strained through the Colonel's ragged mustache was duly repeated to Mr. Wilson before Ambassador Gerard saw him. This is another example of the form of government which Mr. Wilson prefers—a government of irresponsible individuals, acting outside of the law, yet often more potent than the law. Disregarding the constitutional and statutory advisers and instruments provided by legislation for his guidance and assistance, the President has turned in every important matter to a group, a very small group, of individuals without official status, without legal or personal responsibility, and frequently, as the event has shown, without judgment. This, in the dark, our policies have been framed. All this will be changed when Hughes comes in. Hughes believes in a government of laws and not of men.

President Wilson says he will be satisfied with the verdict of humanity. Well, if the inhabitants of the rest of the world could vote they would doubtless cast their ballots for the candidate for President who proposes to hand them the markets of the United States under the free trade policy.

Mr. Vance McCormick has announced Democratic victories in Maine, New York and New Jersey. But what is the matter with Massachusetts?

Is the Wilson Administration waiting to recognize Senor Villa's latest raid until they receive from him an official statement admitting the same?

"PROSPERITY"

The Democratic party is basing its chief hope of victory in this campaign on the cry of "prosperity." "Wilson has given us good times," say the Democratic orators, "therefore, he should be continued in office."

The Democratic party took over control of the National Government on the 4th of March, 1913. In October of that year the new Democratic tariff law went into effect. Between October, 1913, and the beginning of August, 1914 (when war began in Europe), the Democratic party and the Democratic tariff law had the destinies of the country in their keeping. And during that time the Democratic party and the Democratic tariff law ran absolutely true to form. No Democratic spell-binder raised his voice in the first seven months of 1914 to talk about busy factories and prosperous working men!

Below is a sample of the sort of news that was appearing in the papers during the months when Mr. Wilson and his party were laying to produce prosperity without the assistance of munition contracts:

(From Times-Star April 6, 1914.)

THREATENS BLOODSHED IF POLICE INTERFERE

I. W. W. Agitator Gives Warning to New York Authorities.

New York, April 6—Speaking at Rutgers Square yesterday, Ben Lattin, an I. W. W. agitator, said: "The unemployed will show them next Saturday that we mean business, if the police attempt to interfere with a meeting of 50,000 men who are out of work. If the cops will pull any of that night-stick business, there will be bloodshed for fair."

Gen. Jacob S. Coxey took advantage of the opportunity yesterday to enlist a large number of the unemployed in his second "Coxey's army," which will begin a march on Washington on May 1. At a meeting at No. 66 East Fourth street he enlisted several hundred men. Gen. Coxey said to the Times-Star representative this morning, with an air of satisfaction: "It is true that we got many recruits for our army at a fine meeting in the Manhattan Lyceum yesterday, and while many of the recruits are I. W. W. men, the policy of violence advocated by the I. W. W. was not endorsed at the meeting—in fact it was rejected. I am not advocating violence, but merely a great peaceful demonstration. My attitude is defined in my book, 'The Coxey Plan.' I say there that if we fail to induce Congress to act upon our three propositions an issue of legal tender money to be loaned on real estate at a tax of 2 per cent instead of interest; the buying of the railroads and the giving of work to the unemployed, we must have revolution. Think it over. Is there anything left for us to do?"

WOODROW WILSON'S WOBBLY WAYS

President Wilson wants it distinctly understood that when he said he was too proud to fight he didn't mean to say he was too proud to fight for a second term after being elected to the first one on a platform pledging him and his party to the one term principle.

President Wilson was right when he declared that he had a "detached mind." Everybody realizes now that what he does is absolutely dissociated from what he thinks and says, especially in campaign seasons.

We are informed that rubber was introduced into the United States in 1800. This, however, does not include that of the neck variety.

They say that more married men than bachelors are fighting in England. Out of the frying pan into the fire?

Editorial Comment

The largest plurality ever recorded for a candidate for president was polled for a man who kept us out of both war and "watchful waiting."

In an effort to encourage the disappointment of the people at the station the Roosevelt Special passed up on account of the lateness of the hour, caused by two breakdowns of the engine, the Democratic newspapers advertised the tremendous crowds that had come out to meet it.

"You may march North (retreat) but not East, South or West" said the stern Carranza to Mr. Wilson's Villacast soldiers, and through fear of Carranza to proceed and of the American voters to retreat Mr. Wilson stood still.

The man who labors for his bread should remember that in a presidential campaign, the Democrats never charge that Republican victory will bring hard times.

The first act of the Hughes administration will be to pass the greatest labor law ever written into the Federal Statutes, a protective tariff law.

Upon the occasion of President Wilson's recent visit to Chicago members of the National Woman's party marching with banners that were not pleasing to the President's backers were set upon and knocked down with canes, umbrellas, etc. It is hardly possible that this brutal assault upon women by Democratic hoodlums will strengthen the president with the women voters.

While President Wilson was speaking to the women inside a hall at Chicago, his followers were assaulting another crowd of women on the outside with canes and umbrellas.

After the passage of the Underwood tariff bill Champ Clark made four prophecies in regard to its operation. He said, first it would decrease the cost of living; second, it would not disturb business; third, it would greatly increase foreign trade and fourth, that it would produce revenue sufficient to run the Government. In fact it did neither, and it is fortunate for Champ that this country has no law providing for hanging false prophets.

The Democratic platform of 1912 promised a single term for president and many Democrats will vote this year to keep their platform pledge.

President Wilson's recent efforts to revive Know-Nothingism in this country, as shown by his repeated insults to the German and Irish people, is not a recent development of his anti-foreign prejudice. In his "History of the American People," written while he was President of Princeton University, he expresses this severe anti-foreign sentiment: "The Chinese were more to be desired as workmen, if not as citizens, than of the coarse crew that come crowding in every year at the eastern ports."

Asked at Louisville what he would have done when the Lusitania was sunk, Mr. Hughes replied that had he been president the Lusitania would not have been sunk. Mr. Hughes' answer has brought volumes of comments from the Democratic Press. They say it was no answer, was silly, was evasive and cowardly, but like Pancho's ghost that answer will not down. It was the assurance of a great firm man that had he been president the more than a hundred bodies of American citizens that now lie on the cold floor of the Atlantic-ocean would today be breathing the warm sweet breath of life.

Is Gov. Stanley speaking only in the mountains, where Beckham is a favorite, in the interest of his own candidacy for Senator, or was his committee afraid to send him into the strong Democratic districts of Western Kentucky?

If the Stanley liquor organization can by using the prestige of President Wilson get a vote of confidence this year to hold the machine together, it will have clear sailing to nominate James to succeed himself, Cantrell for Governor and Stanley for Beckham's seat in the Senate.

Judging from the number of visitors to Democratic State Headquarters the boys out in the State are not taking a very lively interest in Chairman Cantrell's Campaign.

In the East the Democrats are saying Hughes is the Candidate of the Kaiser and that all the Germans are for him and in the West they are saying if Hughes is elected we will have war with Germany.

If you want to see Kentucky share in the laurels of the Hughes and Fairbanks victory, urge your neighbors to go to the polls with you and vote for them.

A MAYSVILLE INQUIRY

Answered By the State of a Maysville Resident.

When first the long series of reports of Maysville people who have been relieved by Doan's Kidney Pills were published in the local press, great enthusiasm and interest were aroused. But Maysville is now inquiring "How are these people keeping today? How has the benefit they received withstood the test of time?" For that, after all, is the essential test of a cure. On this point doubt can no longer exist, for after many years those who have been cured, emphatically declare their cures to be lasting.

Frederick Dresel, 1238 E. Second St., Maysville, says: "I was troubled with inflammation of the bladder and an annoyance from my kidneys. The passages of the kidney secretions were irregular and I had a severe pain across the small of my back, which interfered with my duties. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Wood & Son's Drug Store and one box gave me prompt relief."

NO TROUBLE SINCE OVER THREE YEARS LATER, Mr. Dresel said: "I haven't had any kidney trouble since I used Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dresel has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

WILSON STRIKES WHEN THE IRON IS COLD.

President Wilson refused to speak in Independence Hall on the one hundred and twenty-eighth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence in that hall, and he so refused because inasmuch as over one hundred of our men, women and children had just been murdered on the high seas he regarded it as "the very moment when he would not care to arouse the sentiment of patriotism." Mr. Wilson has a positive genius for striking when the iron is cold and fearing to strike when the iron is hot. If one hundred and twenty-eight years ago Washington and Jefferson, and the other men who signed the Declaration of Independence had felt the same way about patriotism, and the same way about fighting as Mr. Wilson does, we would never have had a country. Had Lincoln felt the same way, there would be no such thing as the American Republic now in existence.—From the Speech of Colonel Roosevelt at Battle Creek, Michigan, in Behalf of Mr. Hughes.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mr. Alry, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it.

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

WHO IS THE REAL FRIEND OF LABOR?

What Wilson Said About Unions and Workmen When He Did not Want Their Votes.

I am a fierce partisan of the open shop and of everything that makes for individual liberty.—Speech at open shop banquet, Jan. 12, 1909.

The labor unions reward the shysters and incompetent at the expense of the able and industrious.—Speech People's Forum, New Rochelle, Feb. 25, 1905.

We speak too exclusively of the capitalistic class. There is another as formidable an enemy to equality and freedom of opportunity as it is and that is the class formed by the labor organizations and leaders of this country.—Speech, Waldorf Hotel, New York, March 16, 1907.

You know what the usual standard of the employee is in our day. It is to give as little as he may for his wages. Labor is standardized by the trade unions, and this is the standard to which it is made to conform. No one is suffered to do more than the average workman can do.—Address to graduating class, Princeton University, June 8, 1909.

The objections I have to labor unions is that they drag the highest man to the level of the lowest. I must demur with the labor unions when they say "you must award the dull the same as you award those with special gifts."—Speech in People's Forum, New Rochelle, Feb. 25, 1905.

The Chinese were more to be desired as workmen, if not as citizens, than the coarse crew that came crowding in every year at Eastern ports.—History of American People.

Japanese women wear gold pins in their hair until they reach the age of 25; at 30 the pins are white, and at 40 they wear plain shell combs.

An English sportman's yacht is so built that his automobile can be lowered into it to provide power.

What Hughes Said About Unions and Workmen.

There are some who regard organized labor as a source of strife and menace of difficulty. I regard it as a fine opportunity for the amelioration of the condition of men working with no other purpose than to make the most of themselves and to achieve something for their families.—Speech at dedication of Tuberculosis Pavilion, Albany, New York, Aug. 29, 1908.

The mission of labor organizations is one of the finest that any association of men could guard. Today we have a realization of what can be accomplished.—Speech at Dedication of Tuberculosis Pavilion Aug. 29, 1908.

It is a shocking thought that the wage earners of the country, who by their daily toil make possible the industrial prestige of which we boast, should be subjected through ignorance or indifference to unnecessary peril. The interests of labor are the interests of all the people, and the protection of the wage earner in the security of his life and health by every practical means is one of the most sacred trusts of society.—Speech, Exposition of Safety Devices and Industrial Hygiene, Jan. 28, 1907.

I believe in a six-day working week. So do you. But do you know that the men who are making a six-day week a possibility and an eventual fixture, are these men (labor representatives) and their associates? I long ago came to the conclusion that the labor unions are going to solve the Sunday labor question to the best interest of the country. Join hands with them and you will double your results, while halving your labor.—Address to preachers and labor representatives in Executive Chamber, Albany, 1908.

In Germany there has been invented a fire-proof celluloid, chiefly for use in automobile windows and windshields.

Plumbago is the most important mineral product of Ceylon, which has about 1,000 mines.

Squeezing the Loaf

The soaring price of wheat has decreased the size of the loaf or increased the price. Either means increased cost of living.

The makers of

have neither advanced the price, decreased the size of package, nor lessened the quality of this splendid wheat and barley food.

It contains the full nutriment of these sturdy grains, including their invaluable mineral elements, so vital for maintenance of strong bodies, steady nerves and capable brains.

Quickly digested, appetizing—a household word for nearly a score of years—Grape-Nuts easily stands at the head of all prepared cereals for delicious flavour, concentrated nourishment and economy.

Every table should have its daily ration of Grape-Nuts.

WILSON SNUB FOR FARMERS

Hughes Shows How Tillers of the Soil Were Ignored in Railroad Discussion.

CROP RAISERS FOOT BILL TO PAY FOR BROTHERHOOD DEAL

Democratic Nominee Levelled a Body Blow at the Interests of Our Agricultural Communities When at the Behest of an Exclusive Group of Railroad Workers He Increased Their Pay Without Investigating the Justice of the Demand.

Charles E. Hughes, who left Lincoln for his second day's campaigning in Nebraska, told a crowd of farmers in his speech here that the Democratic Administration had ignored the agricultural interests of the country in urging the enactment of the Adamson law. The nominee, in support of his contention, cited a telegram from President H. N. Pope of the Texas Farmers' Union to President Wilson requesting that the farmers be permitted to submit data in arbitration proceedings between the railroads and the brotherhoods. He said:

"I want to say in reference to rates that it seems to me the farmers of the country were very little considered the other day when on the demand of the Administration the wages of a group of railroad workers were increased by law, in response to force. Somebody has got to pay the increased bills, and the farmers will know very quick who has to pay them."

"The farmers were not represented in this discussion, if you may call it that in this surrender. I have here a copy of a telegram that was sent to the President by Mr. Pope, the president of the State Farmers' Union of Texas, which I shall read to you:

"We ask that you make no concessions or commitments that will in any manner cause an increase in freight rates on products produced or consumed on the farm. The men who pay the freight have an equity in this dispute, which neither the railroad trainmen nor the railroad managers have authority to represent. If it is your intention to personally dispose of the matter we ask that you postpone further consideration until a committee of farmers can prepare information and data to present their side of the case. If you conclude to settle by arbitration, then the organized farmers should have representation on any arbitration committee that may be formed to dispose of this question; for the men who pay should have representation as well as the men who receive it."

"We again urge that all questions involved be settled by arbitration, where all parties and all interests can be heard and the subject dealt with aside from haste and intimidation."

The crowd cheered when Mr. Hughes concluded reading the telegram: "No regard was paid to that message," Mr. Hughes said. "The business men of the country, through the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, were at the same time and had for many weeks before been exploring the executive and leaders in congress for an immediate and prompt inquiry in order that the justice of this matter might be known. The farmers were not there except through the presence of the representatives of the people in congress, and those representatives were asked to abdicate their authority."

"I am in favor of everything that can reasonably be done for the promotion of agriculture. I am glad to note the work of the Agricultural Department. It will be continued with me, if I am entrusted with the power, to the utmost of efficiency under my administration."

"But it is idle to talk of interest in the farmer when you have action like this taken in congress overnight, against the protests of the farmer, and leveling a body blow at the interests of our agricultural communities."

Mr. Hughes again denied the declaration that a vote for him "meant a vote for war."

MAGNESIA IN SEA LIFE

Chemical analysis made of star fishes, sea urchins and crinoids collected from all parts of the world show that the skeletons of these animals contain much magnesia. The percentage of magnesia is highest in those specimens that lived in tropical waters and lowest in forms from the icy seas of Greenland and the Antarctic, with a regular gradation between which even shows the local effect of cold ocean currents upon life at the sea bottom.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

MASON COUNTY COURT.

September Term, September 4, 1916.

Alfred M. Peed, et als., On Petition.

JOHN H. CLARKE,

"RAMONA"

In "Ramona," the wonderful Film Spectacle made from the widely read story by Helen Hunt Jackson, the love of Alessandro for Ramona Phail furnishes the principle theme. After Alessandro has been driven from his home by the cruel white man, he takes Ramona to a place far up in the Mountains where he thinks he will be safe from his persecutors. It is a vain hope though and Alessandro finally loses his reason through brooding over the wrongs done to him and his people. It is while he is thus helpless and irresponsible that he gets on a horse not his own and is shot down in cold blood in his own doorway, while "Ramona," with a babe in her arms, vainly pleads with the settler for his life.

"Ramona" is replete with thrills and all through it runs the beautiful love story that has charmed the hearts of so many millions of readers. There is a specially composed symphonic musical setting, played by an augmented orchestra.

"Ramona" will be the attraction at the Washington Theater November 1 and 2.

NET EARNINGS

Net earnings are the real back-bone of security values. Dividends are paid out of net earnings. Security values are governed by net earnings. And a reasonable prospect of increased net earnings justifies higher market prices being anticipated.

Columbia Gas & Electric

Is a rapidly developing property. Stock sold at 44, then re-acted to 35 1/2. Earnings for 9 months this year show gain of 144 1/2 in net surplus. Own 51% of United Fuel Gas Co., whose surplus in 8 months gained 109.9%.

Gasoline production, now 15,000 gallons giving a revenue of $3,000 daily, which we are informed will be about doubled when existing contract to supply natural gas to Pittsburgh territory becomes operative.

A new element of development is the oil wells now being driven on 7,000 acres adjoining the big oil producing holdings of Ohio Cities Gas Co.

We give these facts and figures for the benefit of holders of, or those interested in, Columbia stock. Additional information will be supplied on request. A complete statistical letter is in preparation.

The developments recited above justify us in firmly believing that dividends will be paid early next year. We advertised and recommended the purchase of Columbia stock in these columns when it was selling below $20 per share. We believe the development work, which is producing real values that insure greater earnings, justifies our belief in higher values for this stock.

We offer our service in buying or selling stocks or bonds, as well as free use of our Information Bureau.

Arm Yourself With an EVERREADY

The farmer probably has more use for an EVERREADY than anyone, for when his lighting system goes out he is left in the dark and if he is attending to duties in the barn he doesn't want to strike a match on account of fire. With an EVERREADY he is safe and is not compelled to grope in the dark.

BUY AN EVERREADY NOW

We have just received a new and complete stock of EVERREADY BULBS and BATTERIES. Get one today and avoid danger of fire.
